Duties & Responsibilities Congregational Members of a Joint Nominating Committee (JNC)

The Uniting Church in Australia has procedures for filling a Ministerial Vacancy in a Congregational Placement. Details can be found in UCA Regulations 2.6.2-2.6.8, 2.7.1-2.7.3 and the National Handbook of Procedures for the Placement of Ministers.

A Joint Nominating Committee (JNC) plays an important role in the selection and placement of a minister in a Congregation and consists of members appointed by Presbytery and between two and six persons appointed by the Congregation.

Members of the JNC work with Presbytery, Church Council, and members of the Congregation to develop a placement profile based on the congregation's mission and ministry needs. The JNC then seeks to identify ministers that could meet this need. In due course, the JNC reports to a meeting of the Congregation with a recommendation that a Call be issued
